PHOTOGRAPHIC ANALYSIS GROUP

MONTHLY REPORT

February 1964

SECTION I - HIGHLIGHTS

A. PAG Production Activities - considerable activity at the Management and supervisory level centered on completing the NPIC Management survey. The Assistant for Photo Analysis chaired the National Reporting Committee with several working groups, chaired by PAG supervisors, providing data on each of the various reporting activities of NPIC.

Little change was observed in production activities. The cessation of self initiation resulted in a downward trend in projects on hand, however, Mission 1004 has resulted in a number of new externally generated requirements.

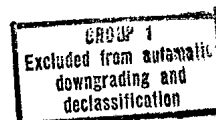

Every effort was made to satisfy the requestor's established suspense dates by producing informal memorandums to the requestor followed only by hard copy reports at a later date. Initial reaction was favorable to this approach.

Increased activity in support of special reconnaissance programs in Southeast Asia is expected to place an increased burden on portions of PAG.

B. Mission Reporting - The successful recovery of the first "double bucket" KH Mission (1004) resulted in two OAKs in two installments each published during the last week of February. The MCI was started immediately upon completion of the OAKs.

Mission activity over Cuba increased considerably in reaction to the cutting off of the water supply to Guantanamo.

A new series of Missions was launched over Southeast Asia and one IPIR was produced with additional Missions anticipated.
